The pressures of being a student

Now, I am a student and I feel a lot of pressures. Not only I but also anyone has a variety of pressures. What is pressing on me? There are three main pressures. I have to study, have to think about my future, and have to better myself.

First of all, I have to study everyday. I go to university 5 days a week and I have a lot of homework. Furthermore, I have to prepare for the next class and go over what I have learned. In addition, before the examinations, I have to study heavily without the time for watching TV and reading books that I want to read. This pressure is had by all students. I think the causes of this pressure are that everybody aims for the higher position any time and that near person presses on in silence. Thus, everyone, including me, is urged along by this pressure.

Second pressure on me is that I have to find what to be in the future. I am a university student and I am going to find employment four years later! So I have have to find what to be in the future early while studying at university.

This pressure tends to be had by any high school students and university students. Thinking about the future is serious and important thing. We must think about it deliberately, but we have to find early what to be and I have to strive to attain the goal.

Finally, I think I have to better myself. When I was a high school student, I studied only for examinations and I had no time to read a lot of books about a variety of things. As the result, I have pity knowledge now and I will surely feel humiliated in the future. So I have to read many books and have to expand my knowledge. To add to reading books, I have to experience many things and have to know a lot of things, for example through club activities or trips. Then, with the rich knowledge, I want to be sturdy and to insist my opinion clearly in order to live in society. For the future, I have to gain much knowledge now.

Thus, there are many pressures on me. Moreover, these pressures lead to my stress. I think everybody, including me, should be relax and take things a little easy. In addition, I think we should keep in mind, “Don’t feel pressures, and don’t be in a hurry!”
